Through Qajaq.nl we want to bring the traditional qajaq, the source of our modern day kayak's, to the attention of the paddling audience in the Dutch language regions.

The traditional qajaq is far from obsolete and can match itself with today's glassfiber kayaks, both in strength and performance.

Besides this website, Qajaq.nl will from time to time organise activities centred around the traditional qajaq, like the Qajaq Treffen, workshops paddle making etc.

Because we have a lot of contact with qajaq enthusiasts abroad, the site is also available in english.
