www.qajaq.nl has been live for more than 6 months now and to really make it a community site, we would like to offer you the option of contributing to the site by writing articles and thus sharing your experiences with others.

What you have to do:

1. register yourself on the site
2. request authorisation to write from the webmaster (through the contact us link)
3. read the instructions in the user menu
4. write and add your article

After you submit your article the webmaster will have to publish it.

Please let the webmaster know you added an article in order for him to provide a dutch translation.
